

Parents Invited to West Salem New Schools Design Workshop on October 14

WORKING TOGETHER TO DESIGN WEST SALEM'S NEW SCHOOLS

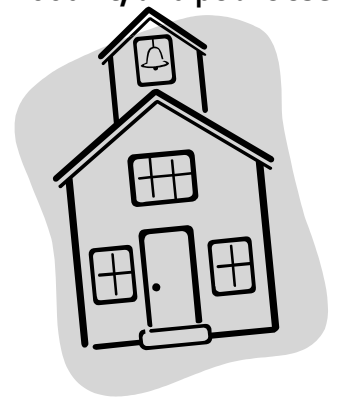

The Salem-Keizer School District is hosting a workshop on October 14 to launch a dialogue with parents and community members about the design of the new West Salem middle and elementary schools. The workshop will be held starting at 6:30 p.m. at Walker Middle School at 1075 8th St NW in Salem.

This meeting is a great opportunity for you to learn about the school design process and provide your input into the layout of the building and concepts for style design. Schools are an integral part of our community — please join us to create a shared vision for our new middle and elementary schools in West Salem!

Elements of the workshop:

- Meet the Architect — an introduction to the architect, Soderstrom Architects
- Goals — obtain feedback on building layout
 - explore directions for style design
- A discussion of high performance schools — the educational benefits and district approach to sustainability
- Principles of school design — regional design, neighborhood fit, and public use of buildings and grounds
- Character studies/design style — the input process
- Building design concepts
- Open discussion and design forum — sketching
